

Sunlite Guitars

Since 1984, we at Sunlite have been dedicated to providing finely crafted, quality instruments at the lowest possible prices. From humble beginnings, this commitment has helped us to put thousands of musical instruments of all types into the hands of musicians all across America- and the world- through an ever growing network of dealers and music schools that today number over 1,000. Our business philosophy is simplicity itself: Help dealers help musicians find quality instruments that they can afford. And with our no hassle return policy, no dealer minimum orders, and a wide variety of credit terms, we have created partnerships and lifelong friendships throughout the industry and beyond.

This season, we've added 4 exciting new models, 6 new optional transparent finishes, and the availability of left-handed instruments in both Western and Classical styles. A couple of surprises follow soon after this printing that are sure to create quite a stir among not only industry insiders, but guitarists everywhere; so stay close.

If you or your customers need something that isn't shown here, just ask! We're happy to discuss modifications, any suggestions for improvements or additions to our model line. Even instruments with your own label and specs are a possibility; just call us for details.

We here at Sunlite look forward to another year of serving so many of you again. Thank you for your continued trust and confidence. We'd also like to welcome those who will be joining our circle of friends. That said, we introduce to you our guitar lineup for 2003/2004.

Sunlite

The materials, the workmanship, and the tone one expects to find in a high quality guitar are offered in our 2200 series solid tops. These truly stunning sounding instruments represent what we feel to be the finest solid top acoustic guitar value offered today- period.

The all new GD-2240GBCP adds the convenience of a cutaway body and the flexibility of active electronics which feature 4 band EQ and a built in chorus. Play one, and we believe that you'll never be able to look at $1000+ guitars the same way again.

The new GD-2312S 12 string employs a spruce top, with mahogany neck, back, and sides. The specially shaped neck is designed to offer comfort without sacrificing strength or any vibration transferring capability. Also new for 2003 is the 1700 series Auditorium. A slightly smaller body than a dreadnought, with a more tightly pinched waist. Auditorium size guitars have amazing projection- making them popular with fingerstylists. All 1700 series come with a spruce top, sapele back and sides, and plenty of vintage vibe. Served with pickguard 'on the side'; and a 8 pattern template.

With a full 34" scale, special design double X bracing, a spruce topped jumbo cutaway body with mahogany back and sides, the 2400 series acoustic electric bass puts out more acoustic volume and sustain than others costing 2-3 times more. For amplified applications, electronics is handled by a Shadow® P4™ preamp with 4 band EQ and anti-feedback switch. A pickguard is included "on the side".

600&800 SERIES

Though our 1/2 and 3/4 size models may be built with smaller hands and bodies in mind, these are definitely not toys. Truly tunable, wonderful sounding instruments, the 600 and 800 series give a youngster a solid foundation on which to build upon.

A splendid example of understated elegance, the GCN-2000F is as exquisite to listen to as it is simply to admire. Its solid spruce top, mahogany back and sides, beautiful abalone binding and gold plated machine heads, combine to produce sweet yet crisp tone that never sounds mushy- even when played with intensity.

Inventor of the wah wah pedal and noted studio musician Del Casher uses Sunlite guitars extensively both in his live performances and film soundtrack recordings.

Standard 1600 SERIES

Supplying someone with their first instrument is a responsibility taken very seriously at Sunlite. Playability, tunability, and fit and finish can make the difference between someone continuing or abandoning a music education.

As a result of our commitment to quality and value, Sunlite's 1600 Standard Series is recommended without reservation by teachers at conservatories and private schools across the U.S. Available in clear gloss, satin, and now 4 colored finishes.

Sunlite

Products of the lessons learned from years of refining our full size classicals, the 1/2 and 3/4 sized 600 and 800 Series are instruments you'll find no need for replacing. With their unique voices and quality workmanship, even fully grown hands can appreciate their character. Richer sounding than many "travel" guitars that sell for many times the price, they still bring something to the table for the experienced player.

CASES BAGS & MORE

Sunlite

This year we've filled out our line of carrying cases to include three levels of protection: Gig Bags, Featherweight cases, and Molded Cases.

Molded cases have plush black interiors and are constructed with metal hinges and framework. Specially contour shaped, they are designed to occupy less space. Available in Classical, Dreadnought, and Electric sizes.

GC-D06

Our Featherweight polyfoam cases are available in Classical, Dreadnought, Electric, and Electric Bass designs; and are covered with sturdy nylon fabric. Inside is a soft, padded cotton lining and accessory compartment.

GC-D12

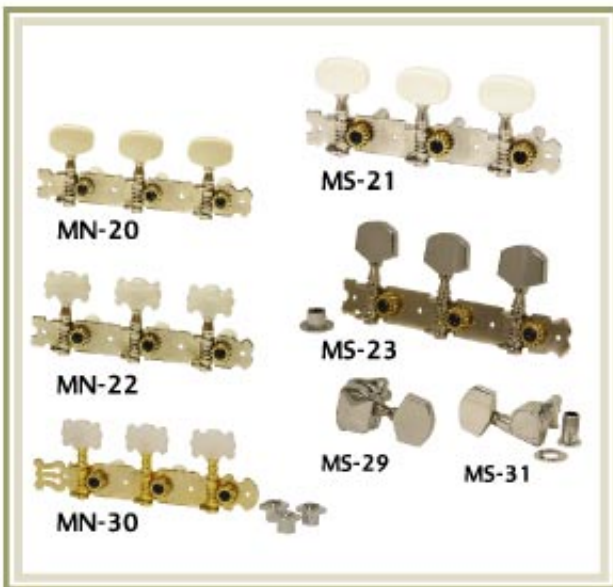

GSE-100C

Sunlite gig bags are available for every body series from 1/2 to jumbo bass. Most are offered in your choice of medium or deluxe padding; with all deluxe bags including backpack straps, leather handle grips and plenty of zipped storage space.

GB-C4

Replacement tuners are now available in 7 styles.

TE-2004
